This combination affords Ranger Creek clients unparalleled big game hunting in Texas. On these trail rides, clients have the opportunity to see exquisite wildlife, incredible landscapes, beautiful foliage and breath taking star filled nights. Our family invites you to join us! Upland Bird Hunting

There you are, walking along the tall grass and mesquite trees along a picturesque canyon with your best dog. Then, all of a sudden, your dog comes to a point. As a hunter you know what's about to happen; any moment you'll hear the rustle of wings and the erratic flight of a jumped bird. Then you level your gun, take aim and fire. This is what upland bird hunting is all about!

We provide some of the best upland bird hunting in North Texas. Whether you are joining us for a waterfowl hunt and you want to do something during the day after your morning hunt, a dog trainer who wants to train your dog on real birds or just an avid bird hunter looking to pursue great bird hunting. We will take care of you at Ranger Creek!

Wild Hog Hunting

We are in the heart of hog country! We set up automatic corn feeders and put out sour grain (hog candy) at strategic points. We give you a map of our property, along with hunting tips and suggestions as to where the hogs are likely to be. This is an on your own hunt. The style of hunting consists of taking a stand in brush early morning and late evening as the hogs come to the bait. Midmorning to noon consists of spot and stalk. Hogs are nocturnal animals because of their delicate skin condition (they sunburn easily). If hunters are not successful during the day, they must be prepared to hunt at night. Because of good cover, good food sources and fresh water, we have plenty of hogs located in our hunting areas!

Turkey Hunting

There are few things better than a spring turkey hunt in the rolling plains of West Texas. Texas is home to over 600,000 Rio Grande turkeys and Ranger Creek Ranch holds an abundance of these animals. In return, we have high success rates and liberal bag limits with a lengthy spring season.

Guides take both guided and semi guided hunters into the field well before daylight. Birds have been roosting the night before, and hunters are dropped off close to the roost areas. We hunt for approximately 4-5 hours then everyone is picked up and taken back for lunch, then we hunt an additional 4-5 hours in the afternoon. Most hunts consist of a fair amount of walking and calling, trying to raise a bird and setting up on him when the distance closes. Because of the size of our property, we are able to separate our hunters. They will have their own pastures to hunt, separate from the other hunters.

Dove Hunting

Ranger Creek Ranch is one of the few ranches in Texas that actually has a year round management program specifically for the benefit of the dove population. With money, cooperative weather and scientific principles we have created a haven for migrating dove colonies and our results prove it! We sow fields of milo and sunflowers that attract birds by the thousands from miles away. With our excellent numbers, why would you want to go to Mexico or Argentina to hunt dove when you can go to Ranger Creek Ranch and wingshoot at some of the best dove hunting North of the border!

Deer Hunting

Ranger Creek is now offering 5 day, all-inclusive whitetail deer packages. These packages consist of meals, lodging and whitetail hunts over fully managed areas. Some of these areas have not been hunted prior to the fall of 2005. These deer have been under protein and supplemental feed for several years now. Food plots have also been established for over 5 years now.
